

VOICES for Art

~ May 2011 ~

THE PUBLICATION OF THE SOUTHWEST MINNESOTA ARTS & HUMANITIES COUNCIL, INC.

2011 Prairie Disciple: Nancy Geiger

The board of Directors of the Southwest Minnesota Arts & Humanities Council is pleased to announce that this year's Prairie Disciple Award recipient is Nancy Geiger of Willmar. The Prairie Disciple award acknowledges one person who has been instrumental in promoting the arts in the 18-county area of southwestern MN.

Janet Olney nominated Nancy for this award because of her extensive involvement with the arts, not only in our region but at the state level as well. Janet shared in the nomination application, "I first met Nancy when she was production manager for The Barn Theatre in the mid-1980's. I was impressed by the knowledge, enthusiasm and ease she exhibited in this role. She has continued to be actively involved with The Barn by serving as a board member, as well as acting in plays."

Nancy served on the Board of Directors of the Willmar Area Arts Council from 1999 to 2003, part of that time as President. In 1997, Nancy was one of a small group of people involved in starting the "Celebrate Art! Celebrate Coffee!" Willmar-area arts festival that occurs in the Fall. She has worked tirelessly for this event every year since. Her enthusiasm and dedication have contributed to the festival's success.

Nancy is active at Bethel Church serving on their arts committee and directing "Notes of Praise", a children's choir, from 2007 to 2009. She is also instrumental in their "If it's Tuesday, it must be Bethel," summer outdoor concert series.

In addition, Nancy served on the State Arts Board and has participated in Arts Advocacy Day at the capitol. In 2009 she received the Willmar Community Foundation Award in Philanthropy.

To summarize, Janet Olney wrote, "Nancy's enthusiasm and positive approach to life have had an affirming effect on everyone who has had the privilege to work with her. Having someone with this level of dedication to the arts in the region has a huge positive impact on everyone."

Thank you Nancy, for your endless support of the arts!

Candy Anderson: Nancy is a passionate supporter of the arts not only in Willmar, but in the region and the state.

Tim Ostby: What sets Nancy apart from others in her support for the arts is the joy and energy she brings to the endeavor. She is creative and persistent. She deals with obstacles in a positive fashion that energizes others who are involved in the effort. She is someone that inspires confidence that a project can be successful.

Adam Geiger: Most importantly, she taught us that art isn't something reserved for the large cities and museums. Meaningful art can happen anywhere at anytime—even if you find yourself in an old dusty barn in rural Minnesota.

Organization Spotlight:

Hutchinson Center for the Arts (HCA) was recently built on the premise that the arts in the Hutchinson area will be strengthened when the art groups join forces and share resources. The Center is now preparing to open their art gallery at 28 Main Street North. The 2,000 sq ft center will be used as an art gallery, offices, meeting space, coffeehouse, exposition area, artist reception space, and for classes and ticket sales to partner member events.

The mission objectives of the HCA are to:

- Coordinate activities of arts organizations in the Hutchinson area and encourage cooperation and collaboration, improvement of programming and improvement of artistic excellence.
- Supplement activities of existing arts organizations, incubate new activities, and encourage a greater arts presence and awareness of quality arts.
- Educate the public to the importance of the arts, arts education, and the impact of the arts on community life and the economy.
- Increase participation in quality arts activities.
- Encourage working artists to locate in Hutchinson.
- Develop a supportive arts environment to create economic and social advantages for artists.
- Share resources and talents including: facilities, business systems, human resources, specialized skills, and access to more funding.

- Encourage diversity in the arts and provide better experiences for the underprivileged and underserved.
- Provide children with quality arts opportunities and experiences they currently can't get through the educational system.

The first fundraiser for the new organization is Night of the Arts set for June 11 at the fairgrounds. The evening includes silent and live auctions, dinner, dancing and entertainment by members of the partner organizations. The Celebrity Art Auction will include the sale of artwork created by local 'celebrities' partnered with working artists.

Current HCA Art Partners include:

- Crow River Arts
- Historic Hutchinson
- Hutchinson Theatre Company
- McLeod County Agricultural Society
- RiverSong Folk Music Festival
- Hutchinson Parks, Recreation & Community Education
